Periodic checking of tractors and other farm equipment is a timely precaution that will prevent serious delays in the field, assure safer operation of machinery and make farm work easier.

Hitchhiking Pests

"Hitchhiking" insects, taking advantage of the frequency and speed of modern airplane flights, offer a continual threat to areas of the nation now free from certain insect pests. A continual watch must be kept at airports in infested areas to assure that "hitchhiking" insects do not move from one part of the United States to another or leap easily across international boundaries via the airplane.

Last summer, inspectors of the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine intercepted the projected flight of thousands of Japanese beetles trying to hitchhike by airplane from infested areas in Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Newark. These beetles threatened to move into beetle free sections of the United States.

Inspectors closely checked more than 7,000 airplane flights and supervised the application of a thin film of DDT from aerosols over hundreds of commercial and military planes. The beetles' favorite "hot" plants in the immediate vicinity of airports were sprayed.

So, we have interesting months ahead! What better advice, than to keep an open mind!
